7O/DL7ZM Yemen –update

A summary / report of this DXpedition will be available shortly. Written by the operator (David DL7ZM) it will be interesting to read because this activity took everyone by surprise. QRX for it.

- 1) Everyone who has a valid QSO and mails David his or her card will receive a QSL card, no matter if you donate or not.
- 2) David says the activity was expensive; 2000 Euro for flights, 1500 Euro for extra 70 kg baggage, 4500 for local support + batteries, solar cells, antennas etc.
- 3) David is happy to receive donations via paypal. If you are unsure how much take 15 USD or 15 Euro as guidance. But again, you will receive a QSL card, no matter if you donate or not, if you send me your card and the QSO is valid.

DX0NE Spratly Islands –update

Waiting on firm dates to be announced, DX0NE has now been approved and acceptable for credits between August 1-December 31, 2022. Below is the band plan for the DXpedition. Possibly 60m will be used. Website available soon. QSL via IZ8CCW.

CY0S Sable Island –update

The Sable Island CY0S DXpedition Team was informed by Parks Canada – Sable Island on Wednesday, July 6 that we would need to reschedule the DXpedition from the Fall of 2022. The reason for this significant change is due to a large, six week project Parks Canada has on the island beginning on October 1 and going to at least mid-November 2022. This project was just approved and funding secured on July 4th. After discussions with the Sable Island staff and our DXpedition team, we unanimously agreed on March 20-29, 2023 for the CY0S DXpedition. Finally, after seven years of planning, we have assigned dates for the DXpedition!
